FORWARD

The statistical data in this report came primarily from information systems maintained by the Data Processing Division within the Bureau of Administrative Services. Information on Court Dispositions came from the various felony courts in Michigan.

Additional information on the production and content of this publication can be obtained by contacting the Public Information Office, Michigan Department of Corrections, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan 48909.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The editor gratefully acknowledges the contributions of the following persons in the preparation of the 1985 statistical presentation:

Connie Henslee, Administrative Manager, who collected and prepared the statistical data.

Steven Paddock, Data Processing Division, who coordinated information systems.

Word Processing, who keyed the text.

Dedicated to Edward S. Turner, chairperson of the Michigan Parole Board until his untimely death in 1985.

He outpaced our most passionate convictions,
Drew strength from the conflict of minds,
Understood more than we knew,
Pushed beyond endurance and

But the lavish blossoms of his good will and charity remain.

1985 IN REVIEW

Prison construction continued at a breakneck speed in 1985. More than 3,000 new prison beds were made available to the system as a result of efforts by the legislature, the Governor's Office and the Department of Corrections.

Among the new facilities opened were two temporary pole bars placed at the Michigan Training Unit as an emergency measure. Construction of these pole barn-type facilities was chosen over the option of tents. Initially it was believed that the pole barns could be closed by the summer of 1985, but when crowding continued unabated, the Department decided to winterize the pole barns and use them for a longer period of time.

Also opened in 1985 was the Florence Crane Correctional Facility for Women in Coldwater. Part of the Coldwater Regional Center was given to the Department by the Department of Mental Health. The opening of this second women's prison temporarily eliminated crowding for women prisoners. Pole barn prisons in Jackson and Ionia also opened late in 1985. Each was designed to house 480 medium-security male prisoners. Later in the year another part of the Coldwater Regional Center was given to the Department to house 500 medium-security men. Part of that institution opened in late 1985.

Also in 1985, ground was broken for a new maximum security prison in Ionia. Governor James J. Blanchard was the primary speaker. The Department also in 1985 took over operation of the old Detroit House of Correction and converted it into a 650-bed prison for men.

More than 1,200 men and women were trained as corrections officers in 1985, and the first class of officers graduated from the newly opened Earl F. DeMarse Corrections Academy on July 26, 1985. The academy was acquired from the Department of Education and is housed on the grounds of the Michigan School for the Blind. It was established as part of the Department's efforts to professionalize training for corrections officers.

A number of Michigan prisons were accredited by the American Corrections Associations Commission on Accreditation. They were: Huron Valley Men's and Women's Facilities, Michigan Dunes Correctional Facility, Kinross Correctional Facility, Michigan Training Unit and Phoenix Correctional Facility.

Increasing numbers of walkaways from minimum security and the murder of two citizens near the State Prison of Southern Michigan by walkaways from one of the farms resulted in considerable public clammor over the safety of the Department's minimum security installations. One result was establishment of a capture unit composed of personnel from the sheriff's departments in Washtenaw and Jackson counties and the State Prison of Southern Michigan. The Bureau of Field Services Community Programs section also began experimental projects in 1985 to attempt to track down escapees from halfway houses in Grand Rapids, Flint and Detroit. The project also involved placement of additional staff at centers in those cities. The goal was to reduce escapes and other critical incidents at those facilities.

The deaths of two prominent corrections persons occurred during 1985. The first was former Commissioner Robert Cotton, Ph.D., after whom was named the Robert Cotton Regional Correctional Facility near Jackson. The other was Edward Turner, chairman of the Michigan Parole Board, who died in the summer of 1985.

Other personnel changes included: Appointment of Ronald E. Gach to the Parole Board; Dr. Lynn A. Green to head the Bureau of Health Care Services; Emmett Baylor as warden of Western Wayne Correctional Facility; Joanne Bach, warden of the Ionia Temporary Facility; William J. Hudson to the chairman of the Michigan Parole Board; Robert G. Redman as warden of Lakeland Correctional Facility in Coldwater; Gene E. Borgert as warden of the Huron Valley Men's Facility; Elton I. Scott as warden of the Jackson Temporary Facility; Robert E. LeCureux as head of the Kinross Correctional Facility; Carol R. Howes as warden of the Crane Correctional Facility; Howard Gentry as head of Michigan State Industries; Thomas L. Patten to the Michigan Parole Board; Denise Quarles as warden of Riverside Correctional Facility; James Yarborough to warden of the Michigan Training Unit and Tekla Miller to warden of the Huron Valley Women's Facility. In addition, long time warden, Richard Hanlon, retired as head warden of the Michigan Training Unit, and William Abshire, warden of the Riverside Correctional Facility, also retired in 1985. Jay K. Harness, M.D., head of the health care system, also left the department.

A major controversy unfolded toward the latter part of 1985 with a multi-part newspaper series in the Detroit Free Press raising major questions about interpretation of the good time law, computation of sentences and halfway house safety. As a result, the House of Representatives instructed its corrections committee to investigate allegations that the Department was following practices threatening the safety of the community. Also, the Senate appointed a special safe streets committee to investigate the allegations.

One other major issue in 1985 was the handling of prisoners with the disease called AIDS. Many questions regarding the segregation of these prisoners and mass testing of all prisoners and employees were raised in 1985. The Department determined, based on advise from the Michigan Department of Public Health and the National Center for Disease Control, to continue mainstreaming AIDS prisoners as far as possible unless they were ill enough to be hospitalized or were behavioral problems.

COURT DISPOSITIONS

The A tables, charts and graphs illustrate data supplied to the department by the Circuit Courts in Michigan and the Detroit Recorder's Court. They show dispositions for all felony convictions handled by the Courts in 1985.

Table A-1 counts the number of people who received court sentences during the year. In 1985, a total of 22,860 people were sentenced for felony crimes. Of those, 7,521 came to prison, about 700 more than in 1984. Of all persons sentenced for felonies in 1985, 54.8% were placed in probation, compared with 52.6% in 1984.

The A-1 table categorizes each person according to the most severe sentences s/he received even though a person may have been sentenced for several felony crimes. An individual is counted more than once if s/he received court sentences on separate occasions three months or more apart.

Pie charts A1a through A1e illustrate the composition of these sentenced offenders. The definitions of the groups accompany the charts. More details on these groups can be obtained from the Office of Public Information. Group A constitutes 31.3% of the 22,860 persons convicted of felonies in 1985. Group A people have no prior jail term, juvenile probations only or one jail term.

Group B constitutes 11.4% and is composed of people with a juvenile record, multiple jail terms or one term of adult probation.

Group C constitutes 35.9% of the total and is made up of persons with multiple probation terms, probation violators or prior prison terms.

Group D, which constitutes 21.4%, is composed of institutional residents, escapees, and parole violators with new sentences.

A2 counts all court dispositions (cases) as opposed to people. By looking at this chart you can tell how many cases of a certain crime got prison, probation or jail. One person may have received several sentences and some sentences involved several dispositions such as probation and jail.

A3 Court Dispositions: 5 Year Comparison

NOTE: Each conviction is counted; some persons will have multiple convictions

* Includes HYTA Convictions

PRISON COMMITMENTS

The B tables represent people to the fullest extent possible. They count the number of prison commitments for the year, reporting the longest sentence from each commitment. A person may, however, be committed more than once in a year with multiple sentences per commitment. In such cases that person would be counted each time s/he was committed. In 1985, there were commitments totaling 6,545 for non-attempts and 1,144 for attempts. In addition to listing the number of commitments by crime, the charts give the minimum sentences for each crime. Those minimum sentencess falling between the various categories are grouped with the higher number. The B-2 tables contain men and women comitments by B-3 lists only female commitments. The charts also contain an average minimum sentence for the various crimes.

The B1a table "Reported Crimes Versus Commitments in Michigan" compares the annual reported index crimes (in hundreds of thousands) with the annual prison commitments.

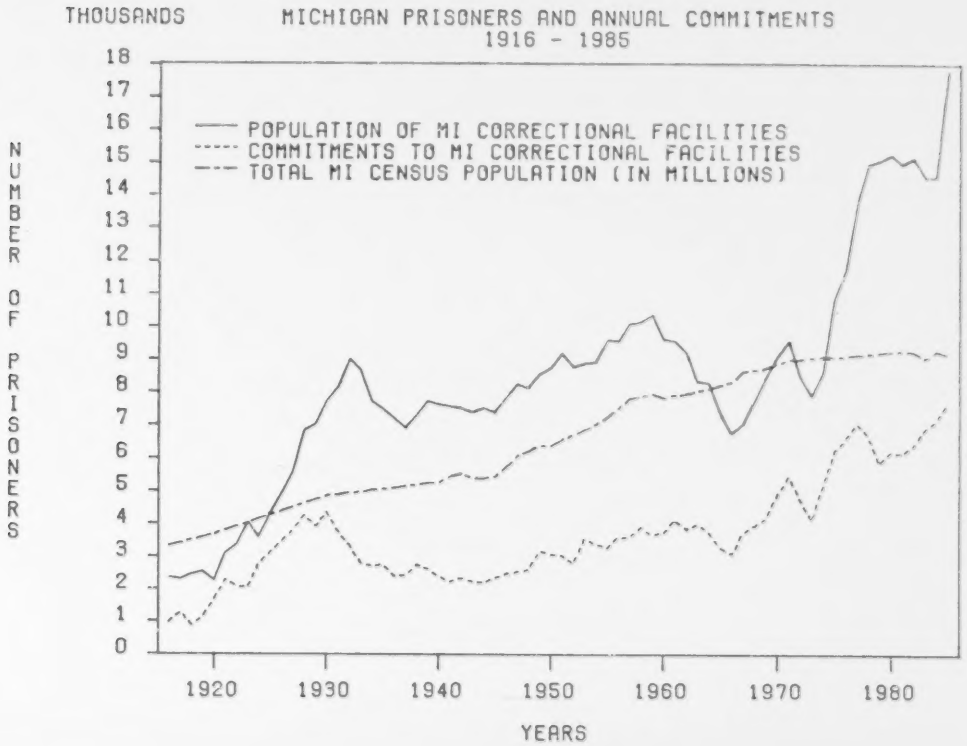

Other charts cover comitments by age, race, sex and crime types. The last chart illustrates the percentage change in crimes against people as percent of total commitments.

B7a Commitments: Percent of Crimes Commited in Three Major Crime Areas

B7b Commitments: Five year comparison of percent change in crimes against persons as percent of total commitments. (Average percent of total is 37.0%)

PRISONS AND PRISONERS

The following tables and charts present information on the state's prisons and prisoners. A map shows the location of all prisons and camps as of Dec. 31, 1985. Another section describes each institution.

The C tables count the controlling sentences for persons who were on count at an institution or in the halfway house program the last day of 1985. Temporary releases, furloughs, out-to-court and admissions to the Department of Mental Health are not counted nor are persons who are on a facility count who did not have any active sentence record on the Department's Computer information system.

The C-1 chart contains sentences for both men and women but C-2 contains only women. Besides listing the number of persons serving sentences for the various crimes, the charts contain minimum sentences and averages. Sentences falling between the various categories are grouped into the higher categories. Attempted offenses are given directly below the named offense and are not included in the non-attempt category.

One chart lists the various treatment activities available in Michigan prisons and minimum security camps. Another lists critical incidents.

Charts also in this section show the activities of Michigan State Industries. A chart showing the disposition of major misconducts also can be found in this section.

Charts illustrating activities of the Office of Health Care are not included in the report because a separate statistical document is available from the office.

NOTE: Beginning in 1984, all critical incidents were coded using the narrative describing the incident on the critical incident form. The coding structure and the method of counting was designed to continue past practice until a review of the critical incident process is completed. An incident can involve multiple events, but only the most serious event during an incident is counted, i.e., more than one prisoner can escape during a reported escape incident and reported suicide attempts, assaults, and use of force incidents usually involve other types of events which are not counted. Departmental directive PD-DWA-12.01 was used to prioritize the events and to define what was counted in each category. Approximately 20% (n=1087) of the 1985 incidents were multiple incidents. The procedural changes have increased the accuracy of the coding of critical incidents. Therefore, comparisons of changes in the number of specific types of events with previous years are not justified, because the change in part will be the result of the increased accuracy in the coding of the critical incidents.

PAROLE

The D charts show parole activity in 1985. Table D1 counts the last continuance or parole action taken on a person during the year. A person may have had several actions during the year. In 1985, 57% of all first offenders were paroled on their minimums.

The Total Dispositions per category shows that 4,106 first offenders were considered for parole in 1985. Of those, 1,052 or 57% were paroled on their minimum; 43% or 800 were paroled after their minimums.

Of the 1,638 parole violators with new sentences considered, 540 or 33% were paroled. Of those considered, 36% or 193 were paroled on their minimums.

A total of 3,079 repeat offenders were considered by the Board in 1985. A total of 33% or 344 of the 3,079 considered were paroled on their minimums.

A total of 3,853 persons from all categories were paroled in 1985; a total of 3,650 were continued. The parole to continuance ratio is, therefore, 1 to 1.

The D2a and D2b charts show the results of four-year follow-ups of persons paroled in 1981. The offense groups shown on the left in D2a are those crimes from which the prisoner was paroled.

The D2c shows the crimes for which paroles were returned and compares them with the crime from which the person was paroled.

The table counts the original crime - - see column labled "ORIG TOTL" - - and contains subtotal counts for the group category of these crimes.

Following the title will be an alpha character in parentheses. For example, homicide has the alpha character (A). The number beside this character (15) shows the number of people paroled in 1981 from a homicide and who were later returned for a new crime. Next, locate the character (A) across the top of the chart. (A) represents the crime of homicide and shows how many of the 15 persons were returned to prison for the crime of homicide. Looking below A, you can see that one person of the 15 came back with a crime of homicide. By moving to the next vertical column (B) you can see how many people paroled from homicide (A) were returned with a sentence of rape (B). In this case there were none.

FIELD SERVICES

This section describes, through use of statistics, the activities of the Bureau of Field Services.

This bureau supervises all felons on probation, parole or living in the community ion a halfway house or resident home.

The supervision is devided into three regions which are shown on the map in this section.

The central office prepares budgets, sets policies and handles matters that cannot be taken care of locally such as the Interstate Compact and communications concerning absconders picked up in other states.

Parole violations which result in return to prison are shown in this section.

Personnel and funds distribution illustrate the total staff in field supervision, community corrections centers and central office administration. It also describes, through a pie chart, the dollars spent suring the 1985-85 fiscal year on these same bureau sections. The work unit distribution charts show how the work time of the employees of this bureau is devided into supervision and investigation.

Supervision is further divided into type and shows the probation supervision accounts for 71.2 percent of all supervision activities.

Investigation accounts for 29.7 percent of the work units. Of all investigations, those done for the ppre-sentence reports clearly predominate.

The bureau measures workloads by assigning unit values to the various tasks. A completed pre-sentence investigation equals five units and each client supervised ranges from 2 units to .1 unit. In most Michigan counties parole and probation agents average 110 work units per month, although the goal is 95.

This section also contains charts illustrating the activities of the Community Alternatives Program.

COMMUNITY CORRECTIONS

The F charts describe the department's halfway house program in 1985.

F-1 reflects community program population, terminations, escapes, new felonies, earnings and cost statistics during a five-year period.

The average daily count was 1,584 and the service population 5,838 in the 1984-85 fiscal year. The average stay is 3.26 months. In 1985, 53.4% of all prisoners leaving the program were paroled; 10% were returned to prison because of disciplinary charges; 23.6% escaped; and 4.8% left with a new felony charge.

CRP Terminations - Percent of Total 1975-FY 1983-84 (F-5) - - shows general trends in termination statistics over the past ten years.
